These names come from the National Archives of Australia (NAA) cards of ships crew deserted at South Australian outPorts from British and foreign ships, 1891-1922. I copied them as carefully as possible but the original cards had also been copied, probably from hand written records, so there are bound to be many mistakes. With the help of TROVE I have looked up ship names and corrected some. The ship 'Pengwern' was a good example. It was spelt 'Pengwen' on most cards but was apparently called 'Pengwern' from newspaper stories. With all the records in a list it is easier to find mistakes and correct them from repetition of ship names and from referring them to newspaper shipping records. Pt officials were also sometimes responsible for 'simplifying' names that were hard to spell.
